WALTER ULYATT is charged, on warrant issued at Wakefield, England, with embezzling £56 12s. 3d., on 14th April, 1881, the money of Her Majesty's Commissioners of Prisons, Wakefield. He is thus described by the Chief Constable of Wakefield:—36 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, or thereabouts, fresh complexion, hazel eyes, light-brown hair parted down the centre, very thin in front, high forehead, no whiskers or beard, brown moustache, well built, not a muscular man but a smart figure, and he knows it, one of those sort of men who fancies within himself, "I'm the man, there's not one of you can come up to me." He is a great smoker, and generally uses a briar pipe, fairly educated, a native of Wakefield, and is well known to the principal hotel-keepers throughout England; dressed when last seen in a grey jacket, trousers, and vest, black billy-cock hat, and a pair of button boots. Ulyatt is well acquainted with tradesmen in the mat making trade in most of the towns in the country. Offender is said to be now in Melbourne, passing under the name of Walter White. Photo. of Ulyatt in Melbourne Detective Office. Offender was traveller for the sale of goods manufactured at the prison named. If found he is to be kept under surveillance, and the officer in charge of detectives, Melbourne, is to be communicated with at once regarding the matter.—O.6217. 16th September, 1882.

September 13th, 1882.

HENRY CHARLES NEWTON is charged, on warrant issued in Liverpool, England, with stealing £724 from his employer, Joseph Walton, wine and spirit merchant, 4 Hatton Garden, Liverpool, on the 3rd November, 1881. It has been ascertained that the offender arrived in Melbourne on the 16th February last, by the ship Wasdale, from Liverpool. On the 25th of the same month, offender and a fellow-passenger by the Wasdale left Melbourne by the s.s. City of Adelaide, for Sydney; and they returned from there to Melbourne in about a fortnight. Up to this time offender went by the name of Arthur Lilly. On the 6th of April last, a man, who gave his name as Arthur Lilly Hunter, opened an account in the Commercial Bank, Melbourne, by paying in five £100 Bank of England notes, the numbers of which show they were part of the money stolen from Mr. Walton. Before the 12th of the same month this man drew all the money out again, excepting £5, which still remains to his credit. Amongst the money paid out to him were seven £50-notes, a £20-note, a £10-note, and a £5-note, all on the Commercial Bank. Since the 12th of April this man has not been seen by the bank officials. While in Melbourne he bought a gold keyless-watch for £8, a ten-dollar gold coin with a hole in it, a twenty-dollar gold coin, and a double barrelled gun in an oak case. On the morning of the 14th April last he left Melbourne, stating he was going to Ballarat; he took with him a portmanteau, a black leather bag, and the gun and case. He promised to write from Ballarat, but has not done so. He stated he had an uncle, proprietor of a paper in New Zealand, or that he was on the press there. Diligent inquiry is to be made for this offender. If found, the officer in charge of detectives, Melbourne, should be immediately communicated with, who will take steps to have the necessary legal documents obtained for offender's apprehension, as, prior to this being done, interference with or arrest of offender would be improper.

Description:—A bookkeeper, a native of Leeds, 20 years of age, but looks older, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, fair complexion, oval features, thick neck, dark thick hair brushed up in front and grows down neck, small side whiskers and small moustache much lighter than hair, small pimples on chin and on neck; dresses well. Supposed to be wearing the watch, and to have the dollars attached to watch-chain. A reward of £20 will be paid for the arrest of the offender and the recovery of the stolen money; or, if the total amount be not recovered, a reward in proportion to the amount recovered. All the money stolen was in Bank of England notes and gold.—O.6061. 11th September, 1882.
