20-1-1902.

C.O. $\frac{5}{1902}$.—Officers in charge of Districts and Sub-districts must take every precaution, in cases of supposed poisoning, that the contents of human intestines, or any other substance which is given into the care of the police for transmission to the Government Analyst for analysis, shall pass through the least possible number of hands.

Whenever practicable, the sealed contents for analysis should be given to the Government Analyst by the constable into whose hands the medical man holding the post mortem examination first delivered it.

FRED. HARE,
Commissioner of Police.
