The West Australian.
Covers the State

The West Australian market is completely and economically covered by one morning newspaper . . . with the largest net paid daily circulation—102,555 daily . . . this figure is significant to all who advertise . . . it means that you can reach more homes in W.A. through "The West Australian" than ever before . . . and swiftly too. Express distribution makes it possible for readers within a radius of 300 miles of Perth to receive your message a few hours after publication—that's smart work indeed . . . but then you must be smart to capture your market these days—that's why more and more advertisers are using "The West Australian."

"THE WESTERN MAIL"

Plus "THE WOMEN'S MAGAZINE"

Western Australia's only illustrated weekly circulates in all the country districts . . . special Rural features combined with pithy news, briefly told . . . and pages of sport . . . and fashions . . . make "The Western Mail" the most sought-after magazine in the country districts of Western Australia. Town people, too, find much of interest in "The Western Mail," the splendid illustrations . . . giving pictures from world-wide sources . . . and vastly interesting literary pages, being of special appeal, help "The Western Mail" to keep its reputation as Western Australia's best weekly. . . . 6d. weekly

"THE BROADCASTER"

Western Australia's only weekly broadcasting magazine combines a wealth of programme information, with a comprehensive collection of special magazine features and informative technical notes. The programme section of "The Broadcaster" sets out with masterly clarity all programmes for local stations. "The Broadcaster" is on sale throughout Western Australia every Thursday morning. . . . 3d. weekly
