

LINDSAY J. PEET PAPERS

Lindsay Peet was a long time member and committee member of the Friends of Battye Library (Inc.), a member of the National Trust (WA) and the Royal Western Australian Historical Society. He also held close ties with the Professional Historians Association (WA), and held the role of Vice President of that organisation.

As a professional historian, Lindsay researched and wrote authoritatively on World War II and on the history of real estate development in Western Australia. Lindsay held a particular interest in military aviation, and wrote numerous academic papers and two books on the history and role of the armed forces in Western Australia. He had a particular interest in the crash landing of the American B-24 Liberator Shady Lady.

His grandparents were James Thomas Peet (1862-1935) born in Nottinghamshire who married Mabel Urch (1877-1970). They came to Australia in 1886 and with Austin Bastow founded Peet & Bastow in the 1890s in Melbourne, and eventually set up real estate company Peet & Co. in Perth. He was a sworn valuator and in 1899 was appointed Government land agent. James Peet was associated with subdivisions of land estates in many metropolitan suburbs of Perth. He was also involved in educational and philanthropic organisations.

James and Mabel had five children, including Cyril Ernest Peet, born 1904 in Perth WA and died 1989. Cyril took over the business of Peet & Co. after his father passed away in 1935. Cyril was a keen traveller and wrote diaries of his travels for his family. He sailed on the Magga Dan, the first tourist ship to Antarctica in 1968.

Cyril married Ethel Gordon in 1936. Ethel attended Methodist Ladies College and was interested in assisting students with speech impediments, and gave a vocal recital assisted by Lionel Logue in 1920 [ACC 10627A/145]. Their son Lindsay Peet, was born 1939 in Perth.

The collection includes papers of real estate company Peet & Co. and the Peet family in Western Australia. Including some photographs of extended Peet family.

ACC 9663A is a collection of real estate maps published by Peet & Co., catalogued individually and images are available online.
